we'll look after you...

Whatever you want to do in your life, we're pretty sure it doesn't involve spending hours wrestling with your print suppliers to get stuff done.

Yet, too often, that's exactly what ends up happening - managing your print requirements takes over your life, instead of being just another tick on your 'to do' list.

PrintLinx gives you the opportunity to change all that.

After nearly 50 years, we know exactly what clients need... and how to deliver.

We have the people, the technology and the experience to look after all your print requirements, large or small, simple or complex, and to do it totally in-house, from whoa to go.

Once you've given it to us, you don't have to think about it again until it arrives back on your desk, complete.

So when you choose PrintLinx to manage your print production, you can leave the worrying and the work to us while you relax and get on with... well, whatever it is you really want to do with your life.

And that's how it should be.

always the right printer, no matter what you want...

If you're sick of dealing with multiple suppliers, tired of being caught between competing suppliers, and frustrated with the delays and hassles of transporting jobs to different locations, you'll love PrintLinx.

Now, there's no need to choose different printers for different jobs.

Because we're the most comprehensive and versatile print groups in Australia, PrintLinx can handle anything that involves putting ink on paper.

You name it, we do it - from the shortest run, single-colour job through to long-run, fast turnaround and even the most complex embellishment and case-bound books, PrintLinx has the skills, equipment and experience to make it happen.

And, we can manage and control your job totally in house. That means faster turnarounds, more reliable service and complete peace of mind, because we're totally accountable for the whole job.

One source of contact, one source of responsibility.

Couple that versatility with a consistent commitment to quality, a fanatical attention to detail and the reliable service we've become known for over nearly half a century, and it's easy to see why PrintLinx is always the right printer, no matter what your requirements.

we make it easy for you...

No one can know everything about everything. You're an expert in your business, and we're experts in ours.

That's why we believe it's our job to make print easy for you.

Our people have the knowledge and experience to understand your requirements and to do what's necessary to deliver. Just tell us what you want, then leave us to it.

Backed by the latest technology in world-class facilities across Victoria and Tasmania, our skilled staff can handle anything from prepress, to printing, to the most complex embellishment and binding requirements in one of the most comprehensive finishing facilities in the country.

It's all in house, so we're totally accountable for your job from start to finish. And on a practical level, you'll always know who to talk to if you need to check job details or get a progress report.

In short, we know our stuff. So all you need to know is our phone number.

Easy!

you can rely on us...

You don't survive for nearly half a century in any business without doing something right, and we like to think we've done more than a few things to earn our place as one of Australia's leading print groups.

Top of the list is our commitment to our clients.

When we say we'll deliver what you require, when you need it, we really mean it: You can rely on us.

Over the years, we've backed that claim by putting our money where our mouths are, assembling the right team of people, investing in the most up to date technology, growing and changing as the market has developed.

That's why PrintLinx clients can worry less about their printing, and concentrate more on the things they really want to do with their lives.

Rely on PrintLinx... and Relax
